

Coggeshall, Feering and Kelvedon Flood Alleviation Scheme

Existing view - The viewpoint is located on the southern boundary of the flood storage area at the junction of Cuthedge Lane and Public Footpath 67/53, midway between Deeks Cottage and Haywards. The view is looking northeast across open arable fields within the flood storage area. The grain store to the north of Haywards and trees/woodland at Curd Hall in the middle distance obstruct some long-distance views to the higher ground north of the Blackwater valley.

Overhead powerlines along Cuthedge Lane detract from the rural views.

View whilst the quarrying and restoration works are ongoing – Prior to any quarrying operations, screening bunds would be constructed around the site to screen views of the works.

The haul road crossing point over Cuthedge Lane would be visible.

The dam would not be visible from this location.

View of the site 15 years post restoration – The restored landform would be slightly above existing ground levels. The existing barn and arable field would be reinstated, and new hedgerows and tree lined field boundaries created.
