POL 004 C&D Foods Environmental & Sustainability Policy.

C&D Foods, Larkshall, is committed to promoting and continually improving sustainability and the three pillars of sustainability: the environment, society and the economy.

Principles:

Our business approach, in line with aims of ABP Group Corporate goals, is guided by the commitments to the following principles:

To ensure compliance with all relevant legislation, regulations and codes of practice to which we subscribe.

Have in place management plans that drive continuous improvement to deliver our targets and objectives, in line with Group vision to develop, research, innovate and invest in every area of our business so that our future will be as distinguished as our past.

To reduce our environmental impacts within our site, our offices, locally, regionally and nationally including during transportation of supplied and delivered product, bi-products and waste.

To ensure where possible that staff are as locally sourced as possible to limit emissions caused through travel to our remote site.

To increase efficiency and decrease environmental impacts throughout our supply chain, ensuring where possible sustainable procurement as an objective of social progress, recognising the needs of all stakeholders including the wider community with inclusion of life cycle perspective.

Save money in terms of consumption, waste and recycling.

Improve reputation with stakeholders.

In response it is our aim to carry out all reasonably practicable measures to meet, develop or exceed all statutory or desirable requirements and to continually improve environmental and sustainable performance, reducing net contribution to climate change, through the implementation of the following:

- Assessment and regular re-assessment of the environmental effects of our activities
- Provision of a framework for setting and reviewing environmental objectives & targets through regular review of our aspects register, management review meetings & other management meetings as appropriate.
- Training of employees in environmental and sustainability issues
- Promotion of the use of recyclable and renewable materials
- Minimisation of waste – production, material and energy.
- Prevention or reduction of the emission of pollutants to land air & water
- Control of noise emissions from operations
- Consideration and protection of various local SSSI's.
- Commitment and compliance to our PPC Permit.
- Reduction of plastics consumption.
- Minimisation of risk to the public, employees, and local economy from our operations

C&D Foods recognises and accepts responsibility for the environmental impact of our work activities. This includes our own activities and activities carried out by third parties on our behalf.

C&D Foods recognises the importance of environmental protection and is committed to operating its business responsibly and in compliance with all legal requirements, regulatory bodies and relevant accreditors relating to the production of dry Cat and Dog

Food. It is our declared policy to operate with and to maintain good relations with all regulatory bodies and our customers, who are our valued partners.

The necessary personnel and financial resources are allocated to assist us in meeting our environmental objectives. In addition we continue to raise the levels of environmental and sustainability awareness & protection via active participation throughout our workforce and promotion to our customers and supply chain.

As General Manager it is my responsibility to ensure that this policy is implemented, co-ordinated and maintained throughout C&D Foods, Larkshall.

This policy is maintained by review and version revision, is communicated to all employees, suppliers and sub-contractors; it can be further made available to the public upon request.

Signed:
Ian Harridge
General Manager
